

Department:	Faculty of Humanities and Arts
Course Name	Quantitative Communication Research Methods
Hours per week	3
Number of Credits	3
Course Description	This course introduces students to the scientific methods of research on communication, that is, the approaches adopted by researchers to explore the nature and law of communication by exploiting such methods of social sciences and behavioral science as statistics, logics, devising of questionnaires.